OBITUARY

*Another soldier gone
To get a great reward,
He fought the fight, he kept the faith
And now he has gone home to God.*

*His soul has gone to God
The earth will claim its own,
Be he is shouting around the throne
While we are left to mourn.*

*But some day we will meet again
All our loved ones who have gone before,
Some day we will reach the happy land
Where parting will be no more.*

William Jr. was a model man, when a child he was manly and obedient. When a young man, he was respectful to everyone. Naturally, our hearts are filled with sorrow and the tears will flow when our loved ones are taken from us, but we should still our grief long enough to think what this home going means to a friend.

Twenty-five years of useful life ended Friday: November 12th, 1976 at 3:50 P.M. when William B. Jones Jr. was called from this earthly scene. It is God's will that the laborer shall sleep. He was born June 8, 1951 in Stanton, Haywood County, Tennessee to the union of William and Alma Queen Jones.

He was converted at an early age and united with Prospect C.M.E. Church where he was a member until death.

He was a faithful employee of Lasco Industries at Brownsville, Tennessee.
